

PUBLISHED BOOKS LIST

Modern and Mobile: The future of livestock production in Africa's drylands

[SOS Sahel UK & IIED, Editor Helen de Jode, October 2009] is a book about the critical role mobile livestock keeping plays in the economic prosperity of Africa's drylands. Across East and West Africa, an estimated 50 million livestock producers support their families, their communities, and a massive meat, skins and hides industry based on animals that are fed solely on natural dryland pastures. Where other land use systems are failing in the face of global climate change, mobile livestock keeping, or pastoralism, is generating huge national and regional economic benefits. (88 pp) ISBN No 978-1-84369-752-7. To request a copy, contact newbooks@iied.org.

Planning with Uncertainty: using Scenario Planning with African Pastoralists

[SOS Sahel UK & IIED, 2009] is a booklet to illustrate how the idea of scenario planning is being used to help African pastoralists manage uncertainty and change. (31 pp) ISBN No 978-1-84369-743-5, free to download in English and French.

Gender & Pastoralism Vol. 1: Rangeland & Resource Management in Ethiopia [Andrew Ridgewell, Getachew Mamo & Fiona Flintan, 2007, SOS Sahel Ethiopia] is a book about how natural resources in Ethiopia's pastoral and agro-pastoral areas are managed by women and men. It describes how local people often in cooperation with development organisations attempt to pursue their livelihoods from the rangelands while at the same time conserving their environments. (95 pp) ISBN No 978-99944-814-0-8, free to download

Gender & Pastoralism Vol. 2: Livelihoods & Income Development in Ethiopia [Andrew Ridgewell & Fiona Flintan, 2007, SOS Sahel Ethiopia] is a book about how increasingly pastoral women and men are diversifying their livelihoods away from a reliance on livestock towards other income generation activities that raise much needed cash and help to spread risks. It describes the challenges that women and men face in establishing and developing their activities and businesses, including both internal and external influences often beyond their control. (105 pp) ISBN 978-99944-814-1-5, free to download

Traditional institutions, multiple stakeholders and modern perspectives in common property. Accompanying change within Borana pastoral systems. (Boku Tachem and Ben Irwin, 2003, SOS Sahel International UK, IIED)

Towards a local peace: SOS Sahel UK's experience of conflict transformation between pastoralists and farmers at El Ain, North Kordofan State, Sudan. (Egeimi, O; Mahmoud, MAM; Abdella, A. 2003, SOS Sahel International UK, IIED)

Local Networks as a tool for influencing policy: Experiences of the GDRN5 Network in Mali. (Konate, AB. 2003, SOS Sahel International UK, IIED)

Social Inclusion: a pre-requisite for equitable and sustainable natural resource management: two experiences in Mali (Bocoum, A; Cochrane, K; Diakite, M; Kane, O. 2003, SOS Sahel International UK, IIED)

These pamphlets are a series produced by the Shared Management of Common Property Resources Project. The project's aim is to research and inform ways in which common property resources can be managed in an equitable, peaceful and sustainable way. This working paper series provides practitioners with up to date examples of experiences from the field. The series describes work in progress and is intended to promote lesson sharing and exchange between people interested in practice and policy influencing common property resource management.

Local Forest Management in the Sahel: Towards a new social contract. (P. Kerkhof, 2000, SOS Sahel International UK) The result of three years of research with SOS Sahel and other projects in several Sahelian countries, this book assesses the current trend towards management shared between state and local users, drawing lessons for policy and an inventory of appropriate methods. Also available in French; La Gestion Locale des Forets au Sahel : Vers un Nouveau Contrat Social.

Who's Managing the Commons? Inclusive management for a sustainable future. (C. Hesse & P. Trench, 2000, SOS Sahel International UK, IIED (International Institute for Environment and Development))

Hannu Biyu Ke Tchuda Juna - Strength in Unity. Shared Management of common Property Resources. A Case Study From Takieta, Niger. (G. & K. Vogt, 2000, SOS Sahel International UK, iied.)

From Conflict To Consensus. Towards joint management of natural resources by pastoralists and agro-pastoralists in the zone of Kishi Beiga, Burkina Faso. (M. Banzhaf, B. Drabo, H. Grell, 2000, SOS Sahel International UK, iied)

A Social and Technical Guide to Irrigated Shelterbelt Establishment: Including Traditional Water Extraction from the Nubian Sandstone Aquifer, [Stephen Bristow 1996, SOS Sahel International (UK)] (Also available in Arabic). The need for shelterbelts in the semi arid areas of Northern Sudan is now firmly established. The destruction of natural vegetation coupled with the increase in population and the decrease in rainfall has ensured that the effects of desertification have been felt over large areas of Northern Sudan. In these areas the livelihoods of much of the population are being threatened. This manual sets out to explain how trees and people can work together to combat the many problems caused by desertification. (42 pp) ISBN No 1 901459 16 0 Price: £5.00

Women's Extension Forestry Manual: A Methodology from Northern Sudan, [Stephen Bristow 1996, SOS Sahel International (UK)] (Also available in Arabic). This manual has been written for those involved in planning and implementing social forestry programmes for women in dryland areas. It will be particularly relevant to those working in Northern and Western Sudan and provides practical guidance and training material to enable women to become involved in the effort to increase tree cover in arid and semi arid areas. The manual also covers the social and cultural aspects of women's involvement in Sudan. (24 pp) ISBN No 1 901459 17 9 Price: £5.00

Cash for Work and Food Insecurity in Koisha, Southern Ethiopia [P. Jenden, 1996, ODI Relief and Rehabilitation Network Paper 11, ODI] is a description of the Food Security Project implemented by SOS Sahel in Wellaita in the southern region of Ethiopia. The ultimate objective of the project was to provide a sound basis for informing future responses to addressing the problem of seasonal food insecurity and a more effective integration of relief and development initiatives. This paper provides a summary of the research carried out by the project. The full report with annexes is entitled Cash for Work and Food Insecurity, Koisha Woreda - Wellaita, Ethiopia - see below. (A5, 45 pp). Price: £5.00

Changing Places? Women, Resource Management and Migration in the Sahel, [principal researcher: R. David 1995, SOS Sahel/ESRC/IFAD/IIED] considers the relationship between male out-migration and women's management of natural resources in Senegal, Burkina Faso, Mali, and Sudan. The research discovered a variety of conditions, responses and perceptions throughout the Sahel. (169 pp) ISBN No 1 901459 14 4 Price: £7.99

A Field Worker's Guide to the Identification, Propagation and Uses of Common Trees and Shrubs of Dryland Sudan, [Kees Vogt 1995, SOS Sahel International (UK)] (Also available in Arabic). This manual compiled for the use of project extensionists in the SOS Sahel El Ain Natural Forest Management Project, El Obeid, Sudan. It has been used extensively and updated continuously through knowledge garnered from local people, project staff and text books. The original manual has been completely revised for distribution outside the project and will be useful for field officers and extensionists as well as researchers of natural resources in Sudan and many other semi arid regions. (167 pp) ISBN No 1 901459 15 2 Price: £15.00

At the Deserts Edge, Oral Histories from the Sahel [N. Cross, R. Barker & SOS Sahel, 1992, Panos Institute] explores the culture, history and environment of the Sahel through the memoirs and recollections of its people. The book draws on interviews conducted by SOS Sahel with over 500 men and women from eight Sahelian countries, and is a unique collection of knowledge about changing ecological conditions, conservation and agricultural practices, traditional medicines and social relationships. A valuable source of reference for development workers, teachers and journalists, with a fascinating blend of stories, anecdotes, opinions and information. (241 pp) ISBN No 1 870670 26 4 Price: £12.95